REPORT OF THE TRUSTEES

We are pleased to present before you the ANNUAL REPORT of SAHARA MUTUAL FUND for the year ended March 31, 2014

Overview of Debt Markets in 2013-14

The events unfolded in the last year provided indications to the policy makers across the globe that policy action needs coordination not only to face the challenge but also during the unwinding process. US at the back of growth momentum announced the roll back plan of its stimulus measures which resulted in impact on global capital markets as well as currencies. The 10 year benchmark rates in India zoomed to over 9.5% while short term rates stepped up to 12.5% between May '13 to August '13. Dollar outflow pushed the forex reserve to pare nearly 20 bn Dollars. RBI had to intervene and certain measures were announced both to attract dollar and to curtail the speculation in currency while government discouraged gold import to sustain the current account deficit (CAD). Also RBI hiked the policy rates twice to counter the impact as well as to soften the inflationary tendencies to 8%.

The second half of the year was relatively stable on the back of above policy measures. Macro economic data and volatility in currency market eased. Rupee remained stable in the range of 60-62/dollar. Current Account Deficit (CAD) moderated to below 3% of the GDP while WPI softened and CPI too followed the trend to register 4.68% and 8.03% respectively in the month of Feb. However Fiscal deficit remained the concern for most part even after the reiteration from government to cap the fiscal deficit at 4.8%.

Government finance fared poorly due to less than budgeted tax revenue especially indirect tax while non plan expenditure remained buoyant. IIP posted a dismal picture for the year with negative growth.

Overview of Equity Markets in 2013-14

At the start of October 2013-2014, there were hopes of revival of the Indian economy; however certain global circumstances coupled with low policy initiatives led to subdued performance of the equity market. Despite that, and amidst high volatility throughout the year, the stock markets ended the year with gains. In the last financial year 2013-2014, the leading benchmark indices, Sensex and Nifty posted annual gains of 18.85% & 17.98% respectively. Both Sensex and Nifty made all time highs, whereas CNX Midcap index gave a return of 16.36%. In the last financial year, flows have been robust from Foreign Institutional Investors (FIIs) with net buyers of around Rs.80,000 crores while Domestic Institutional Investors (DII's) were net sellers.

India has decisively voted BJP-led NDA to power at the center. BJP itself has won over 50% of the seats, thereby giving a sign of stability and freedom of pursuing its policies.

During the Financial Year 2013-2014 few major events which impacted the markets were, U.S. Federal bank action, India's twin deficits i.e. fiscal deficit and current account deficit, currency movement and General Elections in India.

The U.S. action on tapering impacted the markets across the global. The sharp increase in U.S. yields sparked a sudden portfolio adjustment by international investors away from developing country assets, leading to a significant decline in capital flows. Tapering is to continue in 'measured fashion' through first half of 2014 unless economic conditions change.

Financial Year 2013-2014 was a turbulent year for India dictated by falling economic growth, depreciating rupee, high inflation and tight liquidity conditions. While the year started on a favourable note with lower commodity prices, diesel price hike, low core inflation and interest rate cuts, fears of taper in the US led to notable volatility in the financial markets. The worst hit was the Rupee which touched a low of Rs.68.825 against the Dollar in August from the Rs.61-62 levels seen earlier. However, the policies followed by the Reserve Bank of India (RBI) during that period helped India to navigate the situations safely and without having adverse impact on its currency.

On the international front financial markets are undergoing significant transition as strengthening growth in high-income economies is prompting an end to the extraordinary stimulus measures taken in the wake of the global financial crisis. Most of this adjustment had played itself out by end-August 2013, with equity, bond and foreign exchange markets recovering or stabilizing in the final months of the year. The euro area has seen a sluggish with modest improvement in growth. Germany continues to drive growth in the region.

1. Scheme Performance, Future Outlook and Operations of Sahara Wealth Plus Fund

Performance as of March 31, 2014	1 year	Since inception	Inception date
Sahara Wealth Plus Fund (%) – Variable Pricing Option	29.85	13.05	01/09/2005
Fixed Pricing Option	28.61	12.17
S & P CNX 500 (%)	17.72	10.94

"The price and redemption value of the units, and income from them, can go up as well as down with the fluctuations in the market value of its underlying investments;"

As on March 31, 2014, the scheme had invested 94 % of its net assets in equities and the balance 6% in other current assets.

DEBT MARKETS

Financial year 2014-2015 started with general election and hence an expectation of strong, stable, and policy driven government may drive the sentiments of the debt market. Currency market and Current Account Deficit (CAD) may also be positively affected given a strong FI inflow. Also with strong government may revive the structural and policy reform which has been stalled for long. So the nature of the new government is one of the key factors which may decide the overall market sentiments.

However the outlook for the inflation is bleak given the possibilities of El-Nino effect impacting the monsoon. Food inflation which has been the major dampener in the past year may again prove to be a threat. WPI and CPI both on account on expected higher food price. Inflation may not tread on RBI expected lines. With the new government in place it is expected to follow high growth policies which may result in better economic outlook and slightly lower inflation trajectory. RBI is expected to hold the policy rates in the 1st half of the FY15 but may review the policy in tune with prevailing condition. Export sector though has improved in the last year but weak environment in China and other emerging economies which are battling with lower growth syndrome may affect the sector. Gold import which has been artificially curtailed may again pose challenge once the import restrictions resides. Fiscal position may not see too much of the improvement in FY15. Fiscal Deficit and subsidy would remain the concerns. Industrial growth may also be a concern area.

On international front, the revival of US and Europe and the consequent tapering of stimulus may result in volatility in the emerging markets. The global economic situation is likely to improve during the current fiscal year leading to better opportunities on export front. A stable new government along with mature responses of the Reserve Bank is likely to lead to better fiscal and monetary position. In this scenario interest rates are likely to fall in second half of current fiscal year.

EQUITY MARKETS

Though the economy is still in a low growth phase, it looks close to bottoming out. GDP growth is looking set to better expectations after 10 quarters and is headed higher after hitting a low of 4.5% for FY14. Liquidity stress is easing as influx of forex has improved liquidity at the shorter end. On the external front, an improvement in trade deficit has helped narrow the Current Account Deficit (CAD). Improved forex reserves on the back of USD 34 billion accretion through RBI swap window for FCNR(B) and bank borrowing have stabilized around Rs.60 level, which may have provided some comfort to RBI to start rebuilding its reserves.

India has decisively voted BJP-led NDA to power at the center. BJP won its highest ever number of seats with clear majority. The reformist and pro-development track record and image of Mr.Narendra Modi and the NDA are expected to boost the overall sentiments. The new government is likely to follow a path of stable, consistent and growth policies.

As regards non-routine items the Fund Manager-Equity with assistance of the Equity Research Department and in consultation with the Chief Investment Officer shall review each of such cases and make specific recommendations to the Chief Executive Officer. In case the AMC is against any non routine item, it may decide to attend the meeting and vote against. In some other such cases, it may decide to abstain based on one or more of the factors like our small holding in the company, location of the meeting place, time/cost involved etc. For these instances, the reasons for non attendance will be recorded. As per the decision taken by the AMC, it may depute an authorized person to vote in AGM/EOGM appropriately keeping in mind the interest of unit holders.
